During the War, the Silk Industry in India expanded to nearly three times its previous size and Madras had its full share in the increase of acreage under mulberry cultivation and in the establishment of the Silk Filatures at Kollegal. The average monthly production of raw silk at the Filatures is round about 4300 lb. There is at present only a small twisting plant at the Filatures and the major portion of the Silk is sold as raw silk which is converted into thrown Silk or twisted silk at Bangalore at the plants of private operators. There is a greater margin of profit in the twisting and weaving operations than in producing raw silk. With a view to maintain, consolidate and establish on a firm basis the expansion that has already taken place and to secure full scope for the future growth and development of the industry and to over-come the far too often erratic fluctuations in the raw silk market, the Govt. in 1948 sanctioned the establishment of a silk Twisting Plant as an adjunct to the Silk Filatures at Kollegal for the production of twisted yarn for ready consumption by weavers and for production of high grade fabrics required by the public. The scheme is estimated to cost 4,89,600/- non-recurring and Rs. 76,300/- recurring. The Twisting machinery has been erected and is expected to go into production in about a month's time. The capacity of the plant is 50 lbs. of twisted silk in 8 hours a day. A net profit of about Rs. 34,000/ per annum is estimated.

2. The recurring expenditure included provision for the employment temporarily for a period of one year from the date of appointment of the following staff

(1) one Filature Asst. on Rs. 90-5-130 p.m.

(2) Two Foreman on Rs. 45-3-75 p.m.

(3) Eight Asst. Foreman on Rs. 24-1-32-1/2 (A)-35 p.m. each

(4) One Mechanic, II Grade on Rs. 55-3-85.

2. The D.I. & C. has now reported that the twisting machinery has since been erected, that it is expected to go into production in about a month s time and that it will be necessary to appoint one Filature Asst. and one mechanic immediately. The sanction already accorded for the employment of the staff referred to in para 1 above has lapsed as it was not utilised so far. The D.I.& C. has therefore requested that the sanction already accorded may be revived. The draft order on p.1 above has been accepted in Finance Deptt. The case may now be circulated to M.(I.& L) and M. (Fin.) as the extra cost on account of the staff exceeds Rs. 3,000 per annum.
